REDUCTION IN CITY TAXES EVIDENT FOR THE COMING YEAR

Vast Improvements Already Completed Obviate Necessity of Funds for Great Amount of Extension Work-Commissioners Assert Public Asked For Higher Taxes This Year.

There will in all probability be a reduction of twenty-five per cent in the valuation of city property when the board of equalization meets the latter part of this month, according to a statement of City Secretary S. H. Hall made today. This lower valuation will be possible because of the vast improvements already made by the city to take care of needs for some years to come. The fire department, water and sewer extension and sidewalk extension afford good examples of such work. Furthermore, more than 250 houses were constructed during 1920, thereby in creasing taxable values by about $2,000,-000. So that the amount of money available for us by the municipality will be little less than last year, even though there is a reduction of onefourth in valuation. There has also been more street paving during the last two years than at any time in the history

There has been considerable criicism of late, acording to a majority of the commissioners, over the valuations and tax rate here. It is charged that these are excesive. However, commissioners say, when the board of equalization met the popular demand. The tax rate was raised from $1.40 for this same reason and to care for fire department equipment and the school fund. The RUBE BERRY WEDS raise in valuations amounted to $2,500,-

FIFTY PER CENT OF FOARD FARMERS IN FARM BUREAU

T. M. Haney, President Of the Organization, Says Movement Is Finding Widespread Favor Throughout Nation-Is Co-operative System of Selling-Government Backing.

Foard county has enlisted as members in its farm hareau more than fifty per cent of its resident farmers, according to T. M. Haney of Thalia, president of the Foard county bureau as well as the Thalix organization. The movement, he said, is gaining widespread favor and is growing not merely in this section but all over the country. Mr. Haney was in Vernon Thursday,

The farm bureau idea, said Mr. Haney, was promplgated some ten or twelve years ago by the Government in the New England states. Its success there led to its adoption soon after in the cotton and wheat states and the novement now has a strong hold in the South. Its aim is the financial management of farm crops, an effort to gain for the farmer the cost of production plus a legitimate profit.

State Bureaus Active.

At present the various state bureaus are most actively engaged in the work of the farm bureau enterprise. But behind the entire movement is the backing of the Government. All of the products sold by the farmers are assigned through the farm bureau and nothing can be sold individually. There are seventeen directors in each state money, they may take out mortgages on the same made out to the directors. In this way the farmers are not obliged to wait for more promising markets and are saved a great amount of em-

In the event that the farmer is unable to pay his membership fee, the bureau will acept a note from him and ake the fee out of the first crop sold for the member. There is a bureau working in every state, acording to Mr. Haney. The Foard county bureau head is himself actively interested in

CHEAPEST WHEAT LAND IN

The Hereford Country

The Hereford country comprises all of Deaf Smith and parts of Castro and Parmer counties. This area for the past several years has actually produced the heaviest wheat yields in West Texas. Prime wheat yielding as much as 42 bushels per acre has been grown and the 20 to 30 bushel crops have been common. Both fall and spring varieties are grown. Great areas of this fine land never touched by the plow await the energetic farmer with a little capital for development. Thousands of farm homes are possible here at reasonable cost —really at little cost compared with the old settled districts. We do not believe any section of America offers more or better opportunities to the real farmer. Wheat now growing speaks for itself and our wheat farms and their owners are living examples of what you may expect if you come to Hereford.

Rapid Development

Thousands of acres of prairie sod are now being broken for a fall wheat crop. Lots of new buildings are going up. Farmers from other sections of the Southwest have been moving in for several months. Development and settlement of these productive lands is an assured fact. But the area is so vast that we have room for thousands of families in the Hereford country. While wheat is the leading crop you are by no means limited to wheat growing. Corn, oats, rye, barley, kafir, milo, sorghum, alfalfa and all sorts of garden truck do fine. And remember Hereford is the hub of the pure bred Hereford cattle industry of Texas. Still we are not limited to raising cattle alone, because we are now shipping more fat hogs to market than any one town on the Texas plains. If you want to cut loose from cotton-if you want to farm where the living can be made from a small garden patch—if you like poultry if you like dairy cows-if you want to practice diversified farming where it wins and makes money, investigate the Hereford country. We have nicely illustrated literature describing these things we are telling you about which is yours for the asking: Just drop a line asking for information.

ANY MAN CAN MAKE LIVING.

"Any man can make a living in Wilbarger county who works." This is the conclusion of J. P. McCaleb, and his experience covers more than a decade on a Wilbarger county farm.

His first year here, Mr. McCaleb says he had 75 acres of the finest corn he ever saw. About the first of June realize a profit. there came three days such as pioneers remember all over Oklahoma and Northwest Texas. The corn was withered.

Thoroughly discouraged, Mr. Me Caleb met a friend, and bad started a lament, when the friend inspired him to action. "Of course, you can make a crop," was the substance of the State started on thrills, and that diet friend's words. "There is plenty of seems to be popular yet, even though time now. Plant June corn, kaffir, the thriller may be nothing more than and sorghum."

I acted on that advice," Mr. Mc Caleb says. "On the sixth of July there came one of the heaviest rains I Two days later I started planting June corn, Kaffir, and sor ghum." The outcome? Mr. McCaleb says he harvested bumper crops from all three. Some of his friends hadn't the heart to try again after that June disaster, and to these the man who had "tried again" sold feed.

Nor is Mr. McCaleb's experience an isolated case. Three years ago men were complaining all over West and Northwest Texas that without rain their crops would not mature. Everybody was discouraged, and one day Otto Obenhaus came to town. He was smiling.

"What about crops," Mr. Obenhaus was asked. "I just keep on plowing." he replied, "and am certain results will Results did come. Mr. Obenhaus harvested a good yield of wheat. of feed, and cotton.

There is abundant evidence that any man who keeps on working can succeed in Wilbarger county. Ask any one of a dozen pioneers who came here with nothing except willing hands and a determination to "just keep on"men who are today worth from $50,000

Once in a hundred times a turn of the wheel of fortune brings success. The other ninety-nine times it is hard work, and a refusal to stay down.

USE ONLY GOOD SEED

The statement that profits will come this year to the farmer who produces with the least cost is almost trite. Neevertheless it is terribly true.

"Some ice and frost" is W. P. Banta's characterization of Easter in Dawson county. He says that fruit, corn, and gardens were damaged some. Good rains have fallen and the grass promises to be fine. Struck Landlord Over the Head.

Leonard Moore, living ten miles north of town, is under arrest on the charge of aggravated assault against Jim Bellar, his landlord, as the result of an altercation between the two men Thursday morning which ended in Moore striking Bellar over the head with a blunt instrument. Bellar was painfully injured. The disagreement is said to have arisen over the matter of renting land.

Freeze Helped Wheat at Harrold.

The recent freeze helped wheat and oats around Harrold, according to Elbert Kohl, at least in some of the fields. Mr. Kohl says in a few places Johnson grass had gotten such an early start as to be hurtful to young grain. It has been nipped by the freeze so that wheat and oats can new get far enough ahead not to be caught, Mr. Kohl thinks.

REDUCTION IN CITY TAXES EVIDENT FOR THE COMING YEAR

BY W Vast Improvements Already

Completed Obviate Necessity of Funds for Great Amount of Extension Work-Commissioners Assert Public Asked For Higher Taxes This Year.

There will in all probability be a reduction of twenty-five per cent in the valuation of city property when the board of equalization meets the latter part of this month, according to a statement of City Secretary S. H. Hall made today. This lower valuation will be possible because of the vast improvements already made by the city to take care of needs for some years to come. The fire department, water and sewer extension and sidewalk extension afford good examples of such work. Furthermore, more than 250 houses were constructed during 1920, thereby in creasing taxable values by about $2,000,-000. So that the amount of money available for us by the municipality will be little less than last year, even though there is a reduction of onefourth in valuation. There has also been more street paving during the last two years than at any time in the history of Vernon.

There has been considerable criicism of late, acording to a majority of the commissioners, over the valuations and tax rate here. It is charged that these are excesive. However, commissioners say, when the board of equalization met tension work and accordingly valuations were raised fifty per cent to meet the popular demand. The tax rate was developments of the past few days. raised from $1.40 for this same reason and to care for fire department equipment and the school fund. The RUBE BERRY WEDS raise in valuations amounted to $2,500,-

FIFTY PER CENT OF FOARD FARMERS IN FARM BUREAU

T. M. Haney, President Of the Organization Says Movement Is Finding Widespread Favor Throughout Nation-Is Co-operative System of Selling-Government Backing.

Foard county has enlisted as mem-bers in its farm horeau more than fifty per cent of its resident farmers, according to T. M. Hapey of Thalia, president of the Fourt county bureau as well as the Thatir organization. The movement, he said, is gaining widespread favor and is growing not merely in this section but all over the country. Mr. Haney was in Vernon Thursday,

The farm bureau idea, said Mr. Haney, was prompigated some ten or twelve years ago by the Government in the New England stares. Its success there led to its adoption soon after in the cotton and wheat states and the movement now has a strong hold in the South. Its gim is the financial management of farm crops, an effort to gain for the farmer the cost of production plus a legitimate profit.

State Bureaus Active.

At present the various state bureaus are most actively engaged in the work of the farm bureau enterprise. But behind the entire movement is the backing of the Government. All of the products sold by the farmers are assigned through the farm bureau and are seventeen directors in each state. and in the event there is no market for money, they may take out mortgages on the same made out to the directors. In this way the farmers are not obliged to wait for more promising markets and are saved a great amount of embarrasment.

In the event that the farmer is unable to pay his membership fee, the bureau will acept a note from him and take the fee out of the first crop sold for the member. There is a bureau working in every state, according to Mr. THIS FARMER IS Haney. The Foard county bureau head is himself actively interested in

The Test Year of Half and Half

The old warning-"Some year there will be an over-production of cotton and the man who has Half and Half will not be able to sell it"—has had its test the past season. This cotton has sold for as much, and, in many cases, more than the other cotton; especially the late pick. On account of its good sample and splendid staple Half and Half was bought readily by the buyers, and is MORE PROFITABLE to the farmer. The reasons are: 1. The green bolls when caught by the frost do not contain the sap

The Hereford Country

The Hereford country comprises all of Deaf Smith and parts of Castro and Parmer counties. This area for the past several years has actually produced the heaviest wheat yields in West Texas. Prime wheat yielding as much as 42 bushels per acre has been grown and the 20 to 30 bushel crops have been common. Both fall and spring varieties are grown. Great areas of this fine land never touched by the plow await the energetic farmer with a little capital for development. Thousands of farm homes are possible here at reasonable cost —really at little cost compared with the old settled districts. We do not believe any section of America offers more or better opportunities to the real farmer. Wheat now growing speaks for itself and our wheat farms and their owners are living examples of what you may expect if you come to Hereford.

Rapid Development

Thousands of acres of prairie sod are now being broken for a fall wheat crop. Lots of new buildings are going up. Farmers from other sections of the Southwest have been moving in for several months. Development and settlement of these productive lands is an assured fact. But the area is so vast that we have room for thousands of families in the Hereford country. While wheat is the leading crop you are by no means limited to wheat growing. Corn, oats, rye, barley, kafir, milo, sorghum, alfalfa and all sorts of garden truck do fine. And remember Hereford is the hub of the pure bred Hereford cattle industry of Texas. Still we are not limited to raising cattle alone, because we are now shipping more fat hogs to market than any one town on the Texas plains. If you want to cut loose from cotton—if you want to farm where the living can be made from a small garden patch—if you like poultry if you like dairy cows-if you want to practice diversified farming where it wins and makes money, investigate the Hereford country. We have nicely illustrated literature describing these things we are telling you about which is yours for the asking: lust drop a line asking for information.

ANY MAN CAN MAKE LIVING.

"Any man can make a living in Wilbarger county who works." This is the conclusion of J. P. McCaleb, and his experience covers more than a decade on a Wilbarger county farm.

His first year here, Mr. McCaleb says he had 75 acres of the finest corn he ever saw. About the first of June there came three days such as pioneers remember all over Oklahoma and Northwest Texas. The corn was withered.

Thoroughly discouraged, Mr. Me Caleb met a friend, and had started a lament, when the friend inspired him to action. "Of course, you can make a crop," was the substance of the friend's words. "There is plenty of time now. Plant June corn, kaffir the thriller may be nothing more than and sorghum."

"I acted on that advice," Mr. Mcthere came one of the heaviest rains I ever saw. Two days later I started June corn, Kaffir, and sor-The outcome? Mr. McCaleb says he harvested bumper crops from Some of his friends hadn't the heart to try again after that June disaster, and to these the man who had "tried again" sold feed.

Nor is Mr. McCaleb's experience an isolated case. Three years ago men were complaining all over West and Northwest Texas that without rain their crops would not mature. Everybody was discouraged, and one day Otto Obenhaus came to town. He was smiling.

"What about crops," Mr. Obenhaus was asked. "I just keep on plowing." he replied, "and am certain results will Results did come. Mr. Oben haus harvested a good yield of wheat of feed, and cotton.

There is abundant evidence that any man who keeps on working can suc ceed in Wilbarger county. Ask any one of a dozen pioneers who came here with nothing except willing hands and a determination to "just keep on"men who are today worth from $50,000 to $250,000.

Once in a hundred times a turn of the wheel of fortune brings success. The other ninety-nine times it is hard work, and a refusal to stay down.

USE ONLY GOOD SEED.

The statement that profits will come this year to the farmer who produces with the least cost is almost trite. Neevertheless it is terribly true.

When cotton was 40 cents a pound be realized on a crop of one-fourth versity. Miss Pierce's grades were so bale of cotton to an acre, or ten bushif such a crop would show all of the increase over that production (granting that such a minimum did yield a profit) would be added profit. The cost of harvesting would he about the only added charge. Most men recognize that preparation of the soil and cultivation are great factors in crop production. Perhaps fewer realize that good seed are ever more important. Of course, the three go hand in hand. This applies, too, to dress of their paper should be careful to cattle, hogs, and chickens no less than

Furthermore, there is a premium of fered for superior products. If we One Year$3.00 could so perfect the cotton, wheat, cat ger country that the mere name "Wil barger" would be a guarantee of superiority, then our people would enjoy a profitable return from that reputa-

Even if it isn't possible as yet to cooperate closely enough to get a stamp of superiority on Wilbarger products, it is possible for every man to plant only the best seed this year, thereby increasing his yield, the quality of his products, and thereby his profits.

AMAZING BUTTERFAT YIELDS due to Curved Disc Skimming. Proved by Countless Babcock Tests.

In scientific cream separators circles, in leading agricultural colleges and on hundreds of thousands of dairy farms, the IOWA SYSTEM of CURV. ED-DISC SKIMMING has proved its wonderful superiority.

At the Panama-Pacific International Exposition it out-skimmed all leading makes in every test. In one test its closest rival left 47 times more butterfat in the skim-milk.

The Curved-Disc avoids the narrow, skimpy spacing between the discs at the top. This prevented easy outflow of the cream. Complete clogging often resulted when the milk was cold, and the cream thick and sluffish.

The Curved Disc avoids the low angle of the discs at the bottom. This failed to give the extra seperating action so necessary for extremely close skimming.

Vast Improvements Already Completed Obviate Necessity of Funds for Great Amount of Extension Work-Commissioners Assert Public Asked For Higher Taxes This Year.

There will in all probability be a reduction of twenty-five per cent in the valuation of city property when the board of equalization meets the latter part of this month, according to a statement of City Secretary S. H. Hall made today. This lower valuation will be possible because of the vast improvements already made by the city to take care of needs for some years to come. The fire department, water and sewer extension and sidewalk extension afford good examples of such work. Furthermore, more than 250 houses were constructed during 1920, thereby increasing taxable values by about $2,000. 000. So that the amount of money available for us by the municipality will be little less than last year, even though there is a reduction of one fourth in valuation. There has also been more street paving during the last two years than at any time in the history

There has been considerable criicism of late, acording to a majority of the commissioners, over the valuations and tax rate here. It is charged that these say, when the board of equalization met tension work and accordingly valuations were raised fifty per cent to meet the popular demand. The tax rate was raised from $1.40 for this same reason and to care for fire department equipment and the school fund. The raise in valuations amounted to $2,500.

FIFTY PER CENT OF FOARD FARMERS IN FARM BUREAU

T. M. Haney, President Of the Organization, Says Movement Is Finding Widespread Favor Throughout Nation-Is Co-operative System of Selling-Government Backing.

Foard county has enlisted as mem bers in its farm bureau more than fifty per cent of its resident farmers, according to T. M. Haney of Thalia, president of the Foard county bureau as well as the Thalix organization. The movement, he said, is gaining widespread favor and is growing not merely in this section but all over the country. Mr. Haner was in Vernon Thursday.

The farm bureau idea, said Mr Haney, was promplgated some ten or twelve years ago by the Government in the New England states. Its success there led to its adoption soon after in the cotton and wheat states and the movement now has a strong hold in the South. Its nim is the financial management of farm crops, an effort to gain for the farmer the cost of production plus a legitimate profit.

State Bureaus Active.

At present the various state bureaus are most actively engaged in the work of the farm bureau enterprise. But behind the entire movement is the backing of the Government. All of the products sold by the farmers are as signed through the farm bureau and nothing can be sold individually. There money, they may take out mortgages on the same made out to the directors. Chuck Everard, the son of a wealths man, married Mary Smith, a chorus girl, and brought down upon himself the wrath of his father. The latter had his son kidnapped and sent word to the girl that he would pay her for annulling the marriage. She refused to take his money but had the annuil ment brought about herself. Later her child is taken to his grandfather' home by Mary's lawyer and the old nurse and Mary applies. Not being the place. Later the old man grows s attached to the child that he desires to buy it outright and asks the lawyer to produce the child's mother. He brings a confederate, thinking to get the price of the child himself. When Mary sees what is taking place she claims the child as her own but the grandfather has no way of knowing which woman is telling the truth. He offers a check for a million dollars to Mary who spurns it; he then offers it to Rosie, the other claimant for the child, and she takes it. REDUCTION IN CITY TAXES EVIDENT FOR THE COMING YEAR

Vast Improvements Already Completed Obviate Necessity of Funds for Great Amount of Extension Work-Commissioners Assert Public Asked For Higher Taxes This Year.

There will in all probability be a reduction of twenty-five per cent in the valuation of city property when the board of equalization meets the latter part of this month, according to a statement of City Secretary S. H. Hall made today. This lower valuation will be possible because of the vast improvements already made by the city to take are of needs for some years to come The fire department, water and sewer extension and sidewalk extension aford good examples of such work. Furthermore, more than 250 houses were constructed during 1920, thereby in creasing taxable values by about $2,000. available for us by the municipality will be little less than last year, even though there is a reduction of onefourth in valuation. There has also been more street paving during the last two years than at any time in the history of Vernon.

There has been considerable criicism of late, acording to a majority of the commissioners, over the valuations and tax rate here. It is charged that these are excesive. However, commissioners say, when the board of equalization met higher taxes be levied for needed extension work and accordingly valuations were raised fifty per cent to meet the popular demand. The tax rate was raised from $1.40 for this same rea son and to care for fire department equipment and the school fund. The raise in valuations amounted to $2,500,

FIFTY PER CENT OF FOARD FARMERS IN FARM BUREAU

T. M. Haney, President Of the Organization, Says Movement Is Finding Widespread Favor Throughout Nation-Is Co-operative System of Selling-Government Backing.

Foard county has enlisted as members in its farm bureau more than fifty per cent of its resident farmers, according to T. M. Hagey of Thalia, president of the Fourd county bureau as well as the Thatia organization. The movement, he said, is gaining wideprend favor and is growing not merely in this section but all over the country. Mr. Haney was in Vernon Thursday.

The farm bureau idea, said Mr. Haney, was prompligated some ten or twelve years ago by the Government in the New England states. Its success there led to its adoption soon after in the cotton and wheat states and the movement now has a strong hold in the South. Its aim is the financial management of farm crops, an effort to gain for the farmer the cost of production plus a legitimate profit.

State Bureaus Active.

At present the various state bureans are most actively engaged in the work of the farm bureau enterprise. But behind the entire movement is the backing of the Government. All of the products sold by the farmers are as signed through the farm bureau and on the same made out to the directors In this way the farmers are not obliged to wait for more promising markets

The Test Year of Half and Half

The old warning-"Some year there will be an over-production of cotton and the man who has Half and Half will not be able to sell it"-has had its test the past season. This cotton has sold for as much, and, in many cases, more than the other cotton; especially the late pick. On account of its good sample and splendid staple Half and Half was bought readily by the buyers, and is MORE PROFITABLE to the farmer. The reasons are:

1. The green bolls when caught by the frost do not contain the sap and stain the lint.

2. There are fewer unmatured bolls than on any other kind.

On account of its quick maturing qualities it makes a whiter

CHEAPEST WHEAT LAND

The Hereford Country

The Hereford country comprises all of Deaf Smith and parts of Castro and Parmer counties. This area for the past several years has actually produced the heaviest wheat yields in West Texas. Prime wheat yielding as much as 42 bushels per acre has been grown and the 20 to 30 bushel crops have been common. Both fall and spring varieties are grown. Great areas of this fine land never touched by the plow await the energetic farmer with a little capital for development. Thousands of farm homes are possible here at reasonable cost -really at little cost compared with the old settled districts. We do not believe any section of America offers more or better opportunities to the real farmer. Wheat now growing speaks for itself and our wheat farms and their owners are living examples of what you may expect if you come to Hereford.

Rapid Development

Thousands of acres of prairie sod are now being broken for a fall wheat crop. Lots of new buildings are going up. Farmers from other sections of the Southwest have been moving in for several months. Development and settlement of these productive lands is an assured fact. But the area is so vast that we have room for thousands of families in the Hereford country. While wheat is the leading crop you are by no means limited to wheat growing. Corn, oats, rye, barley, kafir, mile, sorghum, alfalfa and all sorts of garden truck do fine. And remember Hereford is the hub of the pure bred Hereford cattle industry of Texas. Still we are not limited to raising cattle alone, because we are now shipping more fat hogs to market than any one town on the Texas plains. If you want to cut loose from cotton-if you want to farm where the living can be made from a small garden patch—if you like poultry if you like dairy cows-if you want to practice diversified farming where it wins and makes money, investigate the Hereford country. We have nicely illustrated literature describing these things we are telling you about which is yours for the asking. Just drop a line asking for information.

ANY MAN CAN MAKE LIVING.

'Any man can make a living in Wilparger county who works." This is the conclusion of J. P. McCaleb, and his experience covers more than a de cade on a Wilbarger county farm.

His first year here, Mr. McCaleb says he had 75 acres of the finest corn products so that the producer can be ever saw. About the first of June realize a profit. there came three days such as pioneers remember all over Oklahoma and Northwest Texas. The corn was Will it be necessary to have a pre

Some of his friends hadn't the heart to try again after that June disaster, and to these the man who had "tried again" sold feed.

Nor is Mr. McCaleb's experience an isolated case. Three years ago men were complaining all over West and Northwest Texas that without rain their crops would not mature. Everybody was discouraged, and one day Otto Obenhaus came to town. He was smiling.

"What about crops," Mr. Obenhaus was asked. "I just keep on plowing. he replied, "and am certain results will Results did come. Mr. Obenhaus harvested a good yield of wheat. of feed, and cotton.

There is abundant evidence that any man who keeps on working can succeed in Wilbarger county. Ask any one of a dozen pioneers who came here with nothing except willing hands and a determination to "just keep on"men who are today worth from $50,000; to $250,000.

Leonard Moore, living ten miles north of town, is under arrest on the charge of aggravated assault against Jim Bellar, his landford, as the result of an altercation between the two men Thursday morning which ended in Moore striking Bellar over the head with a blunt instrument. Bellar was painfully injured. The disagreement is said to have arisen over the matter of renting land.

Freeze Helper Wheat at Harrold.

The recent freeze helped wheat and oats around Harrold, according to Elbert Kohl, at least in some of the fields. Mr. Kohl says in a few places Johnson grass had gotten such an early start as to be hurdful to young grain. It has been nipped by the freeze so that wheat and onte can now get far enough ahead not to be caught, Mr. Kohl thinks.

INCREASE YOUR PROFITS ON CREAM

AMAZING BUTTERFAT YIELDS due to Curved Disc Skimming. Proved by Countless Babeock Tests.

In scientific cream separators circles, in leading agricultural colleges and on hundreds of thousands of dalry farms, the IOWA SYSTEM of CURY. ED-DISC SKIMMING has proved its wonderful superiority.

At the Panama-Pacific International Exposition it out-skimmed all leading makes in every test. In one test its closest rival left 47 times more butterfat in the skins-milk.

The Curved-Dise avoids the narrow, skimpy spacing between the dises at the top. This prevented easy outflow of the cream. Complete clogging often resulted when the milk was cold, and the cream thick and
